Job Title: Laboratory Research Assistant in Cell Biology

General Description: Assist our chief scientist in lab research work.

Essential Functions: Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

- Collects and records study data. Input all information into the database.
- Maintains source documents and subject files in accordance with clinic procedures. Ensures accurate and complete compilation of subject data through chart reviews.
- Performs manipulation and testing of suitability of each gamete.
- Cares and maintains equipment.
- Knowledge of and compliance with quality control, ethical issues and regulations surrounding gamete and embryo handlings.

Required Education: Bachelor's Degree in a biological science, Medical Technology, or related field of science.

Experience: 1-3 years' experience in a laboratory setting performing basic and advanced cell biology techniques.

Skills and Qualifications:

- Extensive knowledge of laboratory skills
- Effective verbal and written communication skills
- Excellent work ethic and ability to work both independently and as part of a team.